Wishes on Wings
Granting Wishes to Veterans with Life-limiting or Terminal Illness

Wishes on Wings serves Veterans by meeting the unique desire or wish of a Veteran at the end of life. Wishes can be as small as a lunch with family members to as extravagant as a ride in a helicopter. Whatever the wish, big or small, a committee comprised of VA employees will do their best to help the Veteran experience it.

Wishes are made possible solely through the generosity of caring donors.

The primary focus of the Wishes on Wings program is to help the Veteran do what they want with the limited time they have left. Striving to provide patient-centered care to our Veterans is of the utmost importance to the Fargo VA and the Wishes on Wings program is one way we work toward that goal.

Wishes Granted

“Up, Up and Away”
A Veteran’s shared that his last wish was to ride in a helicopter one last time. The Veteran was escorted to the airport by a local motorcycle group and saluted CLC staff members and his family during takeoff. Upon return he was greeted by a local National Guard unit and news affiliates. Wonderful, heartfelt memoirs were made for all involved.

“Lost and Found”
A Veteran’s last wish was to be buried with the military medals he had been awarded; however, over time the medals had been lost. The Wishes on Wings Committee coordinated with VA agencies to obtain replicas of the lost medals. They were presented to the Veteran by a Colonel. The Veteran was granted his wish. He was buried with his medals and his family was left with a lasting memory.

“Class Reunion”
A Veteran’s last wish was to see his high school friends. With the help of the Veteran’s family and the generosity of donors, the Wishes on Wings committee threw him a high school reunion to remember. The committee organized decorations, a DJ, refreshments and a photo booth. Sixty-five friends and family attended the event. What better way to celebrate a Veteran than to surround him with those he loves.

The Wishes on Wings Process:

Referral: Veterans currently on inpatient hospice status can request to have a wish granted. The criteria for inpatient hospice status are outlined in the Hospice and Palliative Care Medical Center Circular.

Medical Eligibility: The medical eligibility is determined with the help of the Veteran’s primary Physician. The Physician must state the Veteran is eligible to be granted the wish.

Funding the True Wish: A member of the Wishes on Wings committee meets with the Veteran and family to discuss their one true wish and the ability to grant that wish is determined.

Granting the Wish: The Veteran is granted their wish and every effort is made to ensure it is an unforgettable experience for the Veteran and their family. This Wishes on Wings initiative adds meaning to the Veteran’s final days and creates memories for the Veteran’s family that will last a lifetime.
